FOR GOVERNOR,
MAJ GEN JOHN W GEARY,
OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY

Connecticut.

Gen Orris S Ferry has been nominated by the Republican caucus of the Connecticut Legislature, as their candidate for the United States Senate, to take the place of Hon Lafayette Foster (President pro tem of the Senate,) whose term expires March next. There were seven ballots. On the first, the vote stood, Foster, 65, Buckingham, 53, Ferry, 24. The last ballot resulted as follows: Foster, 65, Ferry, 79, Buckingham, 1. Gen Ferry was born in Bethel, Ct, in 1828, graduated at Yale College in 1844, was admitted to the bar in 1846. In 1849 he was appointed Judge of Probate of the District of Norwalk, where he now resides. In 1853 and 1856 he represented the Norwalk District in the State Senate, and in the latter year he was appointed State Attorney for the county of Fairfield, a position he continued to fill until 1859, when he was elected the Representative in Congress from the Fairfield and Litchfield District. On the 8th of May, 1861, Gen Ferry went out as Colonel of the Fifth Connecticut and was appointed a Brigadier General on the 17th of March 1862, for gallant and meritorious services. His service in the army was primarily in the Army of the Potomac.

Great Advance in Wheat.

In the produce trade the great topic of conversation at the present time, is the sudden and unlooked for advance in Spring Wheat, which has appreciated in value beyond the hopes of the most sanguine of the bears, and the prices now being realized are such as the most knowing speculator never for a moment dreamed of. The demand is largely speculative, occasioned to a great extent by Indiana and Ohio operators, who being possessed of large capital are able and willing to advance amount of cash and manipulate it to any extent they may see necessary. Heretofore this delegation has been quite successful both in Chicago and in Milwaukee.

Notwithstanding this speculative demand is so great the unlooked for advance in prices is partially occasioned by the great and unusual milling demand from the South and Southeast. Large quantities of grain are daily shipped to points in Southern Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and some points have also been taken for Baltimore account. When this "bulge" will stop no man knows.

Why Letters Fail of their Destination.

Editor Morning Herald

I use publish the following statements in regard to "missing letters." It may serve a good purpose inasmuch as at offices not a hundred miles from the city of Erie will great complaints are sometimes made that letters come but don't go, at other times that they go but do not come.

Perhaps if people who are disposed to complain of Postmasters not doing their duty will consider the facts in the case mentioned below the truth of such facts being apparent to all Postmasters they will be a little more considerate as they see that the fault is quite as likely to be with the writers as the Post Offices.

Letters are often sent to be mailed with the town left out of the direction, then again the State is missing and strange to tell an 10 cent stamp is used with another one cent in two, to count three cents while it is quite common that revenue stamps are put on letters to pay the postage.

Then if the letters only go to Washington Dead Letter Office, the wonder is, why they are not answered. ONE OF MANY

The Albany Journal has an interesting article upon the subject of "missing letters" which we subjoin. It should be premised that the editor speaks from knowledge derived from his official position in the post office of that city. "When ever letters are missed the fault is charged upon the post office, but in nine cases out of ten it lies with the parties sending the letters." Take a few examples. "A short time since a Government officer in this city was notified that two letters had been sent to him, one containing a check for eighty thousand dollars and the other for thirty thousand dollars. He was, of course, in tribulation and supposed the delinquency to be in the postoffice. But the letters had been directed to the city of New York, instead of Albany and were discovered in the advertised list and secured all right.

"A day or two since a gentleman in Syracuse notified Mr Roesle, of the Delevan House, that he had forwarded him $3,500 to take up a note. But no such letter came to hand. Search was instituted and inquiries made, but the money could not be found. It was finally discovered in the office at Syracuse, held for postage.

"One of our citizens put a thousand dollar draft in a letter directed to Buffalo, a few days ago. It did not reach its destination, and the postoffice was duly authorized, when, lo! the letter turned up among those held for postage.

"A twenty thousand dollar check was, the writer supposed, sent to Illinois, but it did not reach its destination. In due time it was returned to him from the dead letter office. It had been directed to Michigan instead of Illinois.

"Three members of the family in this city own stock in a Western bank. One of them received the regular dividend, but the others did not. After a while it was found that the two missing letters had been directed to New York instead of Albany.

"Instances like these are occurring every day. The Postoffice Department is, of course, held responsible—censured when the letters are missed, but not relieved from the censure when the delinquencies are found to belong to the parties themselves, for no one likes to talk about his blunders.

"The chief causes of missing letters are First, misdirection, and secondly, neglect to stamp them properly. Of the latter, there have been deposited at the office of this city, since the first of January, seven hundred and seventy four. Except in cases where the writers are known, (by having their card upon the envelope,) these are sent to the dead letter office.

"It should be known that a revenue stamp is not recognized on a letter, and a great many letters are deposited with such stamps upon them. These are all sent to the dead letter office."

Sir Morton Peto's Book on America.

A London publishing house has just brought out Sir Morton Peto's book on "The Resources and Prospects of America."

The author after making grateful acknowledgements for his cordial treatment here, dwells upon "the marvellous sustentation of credit in the North throughout the whole period of the rebellion." He even maintains, what has drawn ridicule from English writers when uttered by Americans, that the tremendous and unparalleled burdens of civil war have been attended with "an increase of national prosperity," and if he is asked to account for this he "can only do so by attributing it to the wonderful elasticity of the resources of the United States." In fact, he says, he soon became as sanguine as most Americans that "the nation could bear all her liabilities, and was quite equal to the payment of them within a reasonable period, if necessary." This ought to close the mouths of our English detractors, who have had so much to say about our dilemma between repudiation and intolerable taxation.

The greater part of Sir Morton's book is taken up with clear and accurate statistics of our agriculture, manufactures, and mineral resources. Our commerce and our railway systems are also the subjects of critical examination. On these topics he expresses the most sanguine and enlarged expectations for the future. He thinks that even our war "may be considered as an advantageous occurrence," because it has cleared us of our great incumbus of slavery. Henceforth our course is free. Says the writer

"All that is now needed to give reality to so vast an Empire is that development of intercommunication which I have recommended. When such communications are completed, when the South is effectually united with the North, and when the whole continent is traversed by one grand trunk railway, worked as a united whole, from the Atlantic to San Francisco, we shall be called upon to regard America as the greatest nation in the world. She will be entitled to take that rank by reason of her extent, her diversity of soil and climate, the character of her communications, the variety of her resources, her vast mineral riches, and the abundant field which she presents for labor and for the employment of capital and enterprise."

The military force now on duty in Virginia consists of forty-four companies of regulars, numbering in the aggregate about two thousand men.

A New Method of Boring Oil Wells.

Editors Morning Herald

Being on Cherry Run, Pa, for a few days past, I found an oil well being put down by E T Munson, of Reno, Pa, (the inventor of this method of oil) upon Lot 56, A. Buchanan's farm, in a novel manner, and withal so simple and sure in its results, that I believe it will be for the advantage of the petroleum interest put of creation to notice it. This method overcomes so many of the obstacles that oil producers meet with that it must be of great value to all concerned. I will describe the modus operandi as I understand it.

First a 6 or 6½ inch hole is drilled to a sufficient depth to get below the water courses then the diameter is diminished to about 4½ inches, and continued on about the length of the drilling tools, when the tools are withdrawn and the well cased with five inch outside casing (thimble joints.) Upon this casing is put a substitute for the ordinary seed bag, made of staves of light dry wood placed side by side around a short joint of the casing, having a left hand connection.

This plug is designed when swollen to completely fill the annular space between the casing and the walls of the well. Near the top of the casing is an opening, through which water can be admitted or shut off at pleasure by a rod which is operated in the derrick, as it is of course, necessary to have a short column of water to run the drilling tools in. After the well is cased the hole is continued on till the oil veins are reached, when the well is tubed in the ordinary manner, excepting that no seed bag is used, and the annular space between the casing and tubing is closed at the top by a gas tight cap that performs the double office of supporting the tubing and shutting in the gas causing the well to flow if oil and gas are plenty, or the gas can be taken to the boiler and used for fuel if it is desired.

The advantages of this method are so numerous that this communication may be too lengthy if I speak of more than one or two of them. The first is effectually shutting off the water, so that under no circumstances will water ever find the casing be withdrawn except in case of an abandonment of the well in a dry hole or failure to case deep enough to get below the water veins. In either event all the casing can be withdrawn by increasing the left hand joint next above the plug except a short piece, which can be drilled out in a few hours.

Second. Doing away with the greatest trouble operators have, namely, seed bagging wells with leather bags filled with flax seed, which is the the most expensive material and perplexing of anything connected in testing an oil well, thus saving both money and time. The well can be tested at any depth without removing all the tubing. To me this seems the only way of drilling oil wells.

Matrimony and Morphine.

From the St Louis Democrat

On Tuesday night a number of guests assembled on Sixteenth street to witness a marriage ceremony. The wedding feast was spread—the priest came with his cross and prayer book—the groomsmen assembled in their white kids and pearl shirt collars—the bridesmaids were present with their satin flounces and globular waterfalls—the bride blushing like Aurora was arrayed in snowy robes, orange wreaths and glittering jewels—the wedding was ready and everything was prepared to launch the young couple upon the Hymeneal stream amid rejoicings, flowers, kisses, tears, tremors and congratulations. Only one thing was needed to make the affair complete and that was the presence of the bridegroom. Without him the wedding would be like the play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out. In fact he was an indispensible character, and without his presence the whole affair must fall through or prove a failure. But, important as was his presence, the appointed bridegroom came not. Hours passed.

The priest became disgusted and left—the uncle of the bride grew red in the face—the grooms men looked sour—the bridesmaids languished—and the bride grew nervous and pale. Still the bridegroom tarried. Midnight approached. The house clarion of the ancient Shanghai in the yard announced the approach of the small hours, and still no bridegroom appeared. The supper got cold—the uncle was in a towering passion—the bridesmaids wept—the groomsmen went to bed. A committee was sent to look for the recreant lover, and after visiting the marble drug store to find loafing him there, they went to his room, and found him fast asleep. He was aroused from his slumber, and hurried off to the bride's house. When he arrived there the guests were gone. He gave as an excuse that, feeling unwell, he had taken a dose of morphine, and had overslept himself, but was now willing to face the music and go through the trying ordeal. By this time the native pride of the fair bride had become aroused, and the sleepy gentleman was informed that the wedding was indefinitely postponed. The bridegroom returned to his pestle and mortar, and the young lady remains at home a fair ungathered flower. It was a near approach to a wedding, but "a miss is as good as a mile."

General News.

John Morrissey and Ben Wood of Troy, were arrested in New York on Saturday on a charge of being engaged in a lottery business—The complainant was a resident of New Jersey named Scott, who had been bitten to the tune of $40,000. The prisoners were released on $1,000 bail.

The latest mode of shoplifting is said to be for an elegantly dressed lady to enter an establishment and ask for a garter. Brushing shop man offers a piece of silk braid and turns modestly away while the lady avails herself of it—not to hold up her silk stocking, but to tie a large piece of goods to her crinoline and retire bowing and smiling her thanks.

A correspondent writing from Ballston, thinks that mineral water may be obtained there equal in every respect to the springs at Saratoga. He states that the "stratum of the rock which outcrops at Saratoga and above which the mineral waters are found, has been discovered to lay imbedded at the depth of about 600 feet at Ballston."

The battle field of Franklin, Tenn, where Hood's men fell by hundreds and were buried, has been rented by the proprietor to freedmen, and is about to be given to the plow. Every Southern State has its representative on this field, and their friends are endeavoring to secure means to remove the bodies before the traces of the graves are trampled out.

The Freedmen's Court, at Nashville, Tenn, in the case of Ella Stevenson, a free woman of color, who sued for the recovery of three hundred acres of land, a large amount of property and damages for violation of trust, has adjudged that she be paid three thousand dollars damages for the enslavement of herself and sons, together with other sums amounting in the aggregate to four thousand three hundred and eighty six dollars.

Mr J Ross Browne, who has just arrived at Washington from Arizona, discredits the report of the massacre of the garrison at Fort Goodwin. He does not think Col Bennett, in command, could have allowed himself to be surprised by the savages, and he says that there are not more than seven or eight hundred fighting Apaches in the territory.

The Richmond Examiner of May 10 comes to us with its columns in mourning as a mark of respect to the memory of Stonewall Jackson, who fell on that day three years ago. The Examiner also appealed to the people to suspend business on that day but only with partial success.

The Fenian navy, about which there has been so many mysterious whispers, and which was to sweep British commerce from the seas—all those mythical iron clads, privateers and armed steamers has been reduced with a rapidity which exceeds even that of Secretary Welles in reducing the navy of the United States. All that appears to be left of it now is "the tug of war" between the several factions.

A melancholy case of suicide is chronicled in The Cedar Falls (Iowa) Gazette. The wife of Mr Thos Chadwick threw herself into the Cedar river and was drowned on the night of the 1st. A short time since, she lost a child, and it seems that she upbraided herself with a lack of proper attention to it during its sickness, although without any reason, and on one or two occasions, in conversations with neighbors, she stated that she sometimes felt as though she would like to drown herself in the Cedar. On the night of her death she got up quietly from her bed, kissed her child in its bed, went to the grave of her dead child, and from thence to the river and accomplished the fearful dead.

The crate containing the safe of Davenport & Mason's Express Company, which left Taunton for New York, on Friday, on the Stonington line, was broken into between Kingston and Westerly, R. I., and the safe thrown from the cars. At Greenwich the messenger discovered that the tongue of the crate had been sawed off, and that the safe, which weighed about 175 pounds, was missing. This was found the next day unopened. Two men have been arrested in Providence on suspicion of being the robbers.

The Harvard University crew have challenged the Yale University crew to row a six oared race at Worchester, on the 27th of July next, and the challenge has been accepted. A challenge from the Harvard Freshman class has been accepted by Yale for the same time.

Mr L. G Rosie, messenger for the Adams Express Company, was killed on the 10th inst., near Cave City, on the train between Chattanooga and Louisville. He thrust his head out of the car the moment of passing a water tank, and hitting it against the tank, was instantly killed.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

BY THE WESTERN UNION LINE.

VERY LATEST NEWS.

GENERAL STONEMAN'S ACCOUNT OF THE MEMPHIS RIOTS.

THE VETO MESSAGE OF THE COLORADO BILL.

EXTENSIVE FIRE IN BROOKLYN.

MR. SMYTHE ASSUMES THE NEW YORK COLLECTORSHIP.

THE LATEST NEWS FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, May 16.

The Steamer Java, with one day later news, is coming up the Bay.

The Herald's special says of the President's Reception last evening: Taken all in all this was one of the most satisfactory receptions of the season, more people and representatives of more classes being present than on any similar occasion. Even the Radicals in large numbers paid their respects to the President, who received them in a manner becoming his position.

WASHINGTON, May 15.

The Memphis Riot Committee will not leave until to-morrow. The report of General Stoneman in relation to the riot has reached the War Department and has not as yet been made public. We learn, however, that he charges the blacks with originating the riot, but does not exonerate the whites from subsequent blame and cruelty.

It is understood that influence has been brought to bear upon President Johnson to pardon Kohnstamm, the Government swindler, who was sentenced to the State prison for ten years, but the President positively refused to entertain the application.

The provision in the Postoffice bill requiring Government advertising ordered in Washington to be given to two papers having the largest circulation, will save to the Treasury at least from sixty to eighty thousand dollars per annum.

The World's special gives the following additional points contained in the veto of the Colorado bill. The document is brief, but pointed. It shows the gross inequality on which the largely populated States would be placed by the admission of Colorado. The President cites the facts that the present basis of representation is a Representative for one hundred and twenty thousand population, while Colorado has but 30,000 inhabitants. He adds that the new State would have a Representative for that number, while New York, with four millions of people, only has thirty-three. He also speaks forcibly of the injustice to the eleven older States of the Union, which are unrepresented, which would be accomplished by admitting Colorado. There seems to be little or no doubt but that the veto will be sustained and the bill rejected.

The Board of Engineer Officers from the army and navy, who have been in session for some weeks for the purpose of examining into the coast defences, with a view to making some additional changes at some of the more prominent points, have finished their labors and are preparing their report. It will require a considerable additional appropriation to carry out the views of the Board. It appears that our coast defences are very imperfect and according to the Board have been too long neglected.

Theatrical representatives are here to urge the transfer of the two per cent. tax from the gross receipts of theatres to the net receipts.

NEW YORK, May 16.

A representative of the Herald was yesterday, by invitation, admitted to an interesting and lengthy interview with General Santa Anna. The General denied the allegations published against him and utterly repudiates all connivance with Maximilian. He intends to dispatch a staff officer to Juarez to-day and send a communication to Romero explanatory of his intentions in this country.

The report of the Sanitary Superintendent and the Bureau of Vital Statistics at this city shows that the work of sanitary reform is being pressed forward with vigor, and a marked decrease in the weekly mortality report is noted as among the gratifying results which has been attained.

A case was up before Judge Barnard yesterday in the Supreme Court Chambers, which developed some painful facts. The complainant is Miss Kate Busteed, who alleges that in March last she was married to a young man named James T. Wilson, and that she subsequently ascertained he had a wife in Bristol, England. She is the niece of Judge Busteed, formerly of this city.—A divorce has been granted between the parties, on the alleged connivance of the defendant, who took this course, as it appeared, in order to save himself from a criminal prosecution. An application has been made by the father of the lady to set aside the decree. A further hearing in the case was set down for Thursday next.

VIENNA, May 4—Evening.

Prussia is said to have declined all negotiations at the definite solution of the question of the duchies on the basis proposed by Austria.

LONDON, May 6

Prussia has declared to the diet that the warlike preparations on her part are entirely defensive.

The Austrian reply to the last Prussian note was conciliatory, but she declines to disarm under present circumstances.

Warlike preparations in Venetia were being pushed forward with great energy.

A popular demonstration has taken place in Paduca, when great excitement prevailed. It was rumored that Venetia would immediately be placed in a state of seige.

Paris Bourse closed heavy last evening at 68f. 65c. for the rentes.

The Bank of Frankfort has raised its rate of discount to six per cent

NEW YORK, May 16.

The Times' special says Republicans complain at the alleged bad management of Judge Underwood in writing up the Jeff Davis indictment, and it is asserted as the opinion in the Attorney General's office that the indictment will not stand the test of judicial criticism.

There is much opposition to the tobacco tax in the new Tax Bill, and also against the reduction of the income tax.

NEW YORK, May 16.

There was a fire in Brooklyn this morning in the cotton picking establishment of F. B. Blanchard & Co. The whole building, bounded by Irwin, Sedgwick and Van Brunt streets, was destroyed, together with the contents, consisting of a large quantity saved from a recent fire in New York. Loss on stock and machinery, $70,000; loss on building, owned by Charles Kelsey, $10,000.

Mr. Smythe assumed the Collectorship this morning. The old deputies were reappointed and there have been no changes of subordinates thus far

WASHINGTON, May 16.

The Postmaster General, has during the last month, ordered post offices to be reopened as follows In Virginia, 43; North Carolina, 50; South Carolina, 9; Tennessee, 28, West Virginia, 7; Georgia, 16, Mississippi, 51; Alabama, 14; Louisiana, 16; Arkansas, 9; Texas, 57. Total, 296.

Captain FOX, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, will cross the ocean in the Monitor Menatonomah, now awaiting him at Halifax, to personally present the Emperor of Russia with the resolutions of Congress congratulating him on his escape from assassination.

Capt. Fox will also examine and report upon the principal navies of Europe.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 16.

The House balloted to-day for United States Senator with the following result: O. S. Ferry, 132; R. D. Hubbard, 93; L. G. Foster, 79, Thos. M. Seymour, 1. The Senate votes to-morrow.

FORTRESS MONROE, May 14.

It is authoritively understood here, as the result of Secretary McCulloch's late visit, that President Johnson has directed the surgeon of the post to make a special report on the health of Jeff. Davis.

PARIS, May 5.

The Memorial Diplomatique denies that France has made energetic remonstrances at Vienna relative to Austrian armaments, and says that the dispatch sent to Vienna on the subject was couched in the most courteous terms and solely requested confidential explanations respecting the object of the Austrian preparations. The Austrian Government replied, protesting it would maintain a strictly defensive attitude. France accepted these explanations, and the result was a mutual understanding, according to which Austria undertakes, should its ally attack Venetia independently of France, not to secure for herself any of the eventual results of victory without the diplomatic interference of France.

It is asserted that one object of Austria in menacing Prussia and Italy is to force England to assent to the convention of a European Congress.

The Herald as an Advertising Medium.

We have never had reason to complain of a want of advertising patronage. The business classes of Titusville are "the picked men" of a hundred different communities, and they appreciate the advantages of a local newspaper for reaching the homes and pockets of the people whose trade they solicit. This paper is the very medium which advertisers need, for it was the first and it is the largest daily newspaper in this Congressional district. It goes into every respectable and cultivated family in the city; it is read by the clergy, elders and deacons of every denomination, and by every member of their congregations; it is found in every shop, store, hotel and saloon, and in every village and town in the oil region. It is the very medium which advertisers need, for it goes every where; and if a Titusville merchant wants to bring his wares before the largest number of people who are buyers, it is their best courier and friend. Some verdant people imagine they have nothing to do but open and stock a store in order to receive a trade. But unless in very peculiar localities, where there is a swift tide of pedestrians, they might as well go to Reno. A man may have the best and cheapest articles in the world to sell, things that everybody wants, but if he does'nt make the fact known, who is benefited? No man ever did, or ever will, in these fierce competitive times, succeed in business without advertising. He must plant himself foremost the public eye, and make it stare continually at his proclamations. The sign in front of his store is a good thing in its way, but everybody don't travel that street, and only now and then somebody looks up. But get into the newspapers, and the reader cannot evade you. He sees the blazing capitals charging down upon him in irresistable columns from every page. He is confronted at every step by bona fide proposals from the most responsible sources, every day in the week and every hour of the day. And finally he surrenders at discretion. He "pays his money and he takes his choice." Many of the wealthiest business men of the country attribute their success to advertising; while others, possessing good business training, have swamped their means in competition with that very class, because afraid to venture on the same experiment. Look over the advertising pages of this paper, and you can tell with whom the business of the town and country is transacted.

THE MEANDERINGS OF A "BILED SHIRT."—A friend of ours who shall be nameless met with a misfortune a few weeks since, from which he has not yet recovered. His fellow lodger was called suddenly to Oil City, and left directions to have his baggage shipped to the same destination. The drayman called as directed, but made the mistake of securing the wrong trunk. Our friend, the loser, partially rectified the proceeding by sending off the right trunk the next day and wrote a letter to his acquaintance demanding the return of his own trunk. Unfortunately the latter is held for freight charges and storage at Oil City, and there is nobody to pay them. The owner protests that he will not pay, if he loses his last shirt, and has engaged the services of a sharp legal practitioner to prosecute his claim for the original package without damages. It is likely to be an interesting and protracted litigation. The worst feature of the case is that the sufferer was ventilating himself in a suit of summer clothing, at the time the fraud was committed, and the weather having decidedly "about face" he is likely to sustain damages from the wear and tear of the elements. His last shirt is his best shirt, for it "sticks" to him like an old friend.

SALE OF THE ATLANTIC HOUSE.—This hotel and furniture was sold by Sheriff Krick yesterday. Consideration not stated. One year ago the house and furniture cost $15,000. It was built by Capt. Tracy upon leased ground belonging to the estate of the late Dr. Shigert. The captain launched his experiment under a great spread of canvass, nailing his colors to the mast. The Atlantic was a very promising craft, and enjoyed smooth sailing and prosperous gales for a season. But Tracy finally lost his reckoning, and bumped upon hidden rocks till he knocked a hole in his vessel, and—foundered.

The property was bid in by the principal creditor, Mr. Thorn, of the firm of Vanderveer & Thorn of this city. We understand the hotel will not be closed. It is in a very desirable location, and has always had a select and remunerative patronage.

PETROLEUM.—A curious spring of what appears to be petroleum oil, may be seen at Sixty-second street, near First avenue, where Messrs. McCabe & Duffy, contractors, are building a sewer. The cutting where the oil is found is not deep, but it apparently comes from the solid rock, and possesses all the characteristics of rock oil. The matter is at least singular enough to invite examination.—N. Y. Times.

"Surface oil" is no longer a phenomenon. Our exchanges from every section give information of surprising discoveries of this nature. As a rule, however, the sequel invariably shows "a leak somewhere," and it requires but little time to detect its origin.

FIRE AT OLEOPOLIS.—A fire broke out in the National Hotel, Oleopolis, at about half-past seven o'clock Tuesday morning, entirely destroying the hotel, a billiard room adjoining, and the residence of Mr. F. Knight. The office of the Pennsylvania Transportation and Tubing Co., was in great danger for a time, but was saved through the exertions of the citizens. We did not learn the amount of the losses. The hotel building and furniture were insured.

A RUNAWAY-HORSE accident occurred to a pleasure party in Saegertown last Saturday, inflicting serious injuries. Mr. Hepburn of Meadville, Mr. Horne of Saegertown, Mr. Gifford of Moziertown, and Mr. Wm. Saeger, late of Meadville, were seriously hurt, the first two being taken up for dead. It is thought they will all recover.

THE MAILS.—In Meadville there were mailed in one day 1,545 letters; for the month of April 26,589 letters were mailed.—Meadville Republican.

We can beat that. Last Monday 1,809 letters were mailed in the Titusville Postoffice, and in the month of April 29,809 letters were mailed.

PERSONAL.—We are pleased to see Mr. Harrington, the telegraph manager, in his office and about the streets again. He is rapidly recovering from the effects of his serious and protracted illness.

Petroleum Market Reports.

NEW YORK, May 16th, 1866.

DEAR HERALD: Who is the writer of your petroleum article? It is simply amusing to witness his struggles to prove to oil operators, that their prices are in advance of the New York market, and they should not, they ought not, indeed they must not, advance prices so rapidly. To-day crude petroleum sold for 20c. Now 45 gallons at 29c. amounts to $13.05. A barrel here is worth $2.00 to put it in, and as it costs less than $1 50 to send it on by the tank car, you have $9 55 to divide between the holder at the well and the shipper. Now if the former demanded $5.00 per barrel of 45 gallons, would not $4 55 be sufficient for the shipper; or at least satisfy your petroleum editor? I have felt it my duty to pen these few remarks, for whilst owners of wells are intensely angered at the persistent bear-ishness of your city article writer, the dealers here in whose interest it is written are laughing in their sleeves, at his attempts to prove in the face of facts to the contrary, prices ought not to be so high. For a very long time, petroleum, in face of a steady demand for foreign shipment, has ruled ruinously low, your articles have seemed to dampen out every spark of hope for a rise; the tax is removed, and lo, buyers knowing how they have had it their own way; knowing too, we are not producing 5,000, I repeat it, 5,000 barrels per day, jump to secure a few thousand barrels, and the price mounts to $5.00 in 20 days. In twenty days more it will be —— but never mind; let your city article writer predict its price. Yours, sincerely,

GEO. M. MOWBRAY.

REMARKS BY COMMERCIAL REPORTER.—It is a prominent feature of our Petroleum market reports never to make any statement which is not strictly reliable. We are in the interest of neither "bull" nor "bear," and when we assert that the price of oil is higher at the wells than eastern quotations will justify, we are able to back up that assertion by facts and figures.

The following is the cost of delivering oil from the wells to New York, with the present facilities afforded the public. Private tank-car companies may be able through certain privileges which they alone possess, to deliver oil cheaper, but our shippers have as yet no such accommodations, and as the bulk of the oil must pass through their hands, the price of transportation must be predicated upon what it costs them.

Cost of one barrel of oil on Beneficoff	$5 50
Teaming to Titusville	1 00
Package	3 25
Freight to New York	2 64
Platform charges, and commission and handling	50
	$12 89

42 gallons, or 1 barrel of oil in New York at 29c per gallon, equals $12.18, which is a loss of 71c per barrel.

We have often been complimented both by producers and buyers for our disinterested and plain statement of facts in our petroleum reports. We have always studiously avoided anything like partizanship, we have endeavored to present the views of both parties, and allow them to judge for themselves. If the real condition of the market foreshadows a decline or an advance, or is characterized by reckless speculation, the facts are plainly and truthfully set forth without respect of persons or parties. The present rise in the market, was foreshadowed six weeks ago in our petroleum articles in reference to the gradual falling off in production; and if the speculators in New York had taken the hint, they would not have sold short at such ruinously low figures. The Pittsburgh operators took advantage of our warning and bought all the oil they could lay their hands on, thus relieving the producers and benefitting themselves.

It is a matter of very little consequence to us which way oil goes. It may be better for the producing region that the price of oil should rule high, but if any facts which have a tendency to depress or raise the markets are concealed for any length of time, it produces very violent fluctuations, alike injurious to both parties, and it is our duty to make every fact public at the earliest practicable moment, so that both the bulls and the bears will have the same opportunity of judging for themselves.

The statement that there are only 5,000 barrels per day produced in the oil region may be looked upon as decidedly a "bull story," and one which if acted on, may cause very violent and undue speculation, and as a natural consequence will be followed by a corresponding depression. It would not be very far out of the way to estimate 5,000 barrels as the present daily production within two miles of Petroleum Centre. One fact is however, certain, viz: that the production is not on the increase, and if it holds its own till fall it will be as much as is generally expected.—So far as predicting the price of oil within the next 20 days is concerned, such predictions are out of our line of business, as we do not speculate in the article, but if the markets are suddenly driven up beyond what the ordinary demand will justify, we will leave both parties to judge how low a reactionary movement may carry it within 20 days.

J. P.

THE FEELING AT FRANKLIN.—A letter writer at Franklin thus refers to the results of Mr. Culver's failure:

This, the county seat, has until recently been the residence of the aristocracy and wealth of the county, but who have just had a terrible and fatal attack of financial cholera by the collapse of Culver, Penn & Co., to the time of over a million dollars—many of its prominent citizens being reduced from affluence to poverty.

Yesterday the said Hon. C. V. Culver, Representative from this Congressional district, who resides here, came home on a visit and was arrested on various offences and held to bail in near one hundred thousand dollars. His failure is now estimated at near five million dollars, and it is doubtful if there are any assets beyond paying preferred creditors. Such credulity and such credit was hardly ever before bestowed upon any one man or firm, and in like ratio have the public been grossly and criminally deceived, both banks and individuals. The extent of the disaster is still unknown. While others subscribed and paid in their money for stock in the different banks in which this Hon. was interested, he subscribed largely and in a great measure thereby controlling these banks, as we are informed by his creditors, and also that late investigations showed, instead of paying a single dollar for his stock, he went to New York, give the banks credit in the banking house of Culver, Penn & Co., to the amount of his stock, and so lived and thrived, and gave his entertainments at an expense of twenty-five thousand dollars to the foreign capitalists at Pithole and the like, and pretended to scatter bountiful charities, almost like the wind, and finally busted, and all this on other people's money. His name, that six months ago elicited almost universal praise, now creates almost universal anathema.

FIRE PROOF TANKS.—We direct attention to the prospectus of the Petroleum Fire Proof Iron Tank Storage Company, published in another column. In a recent number we stated the general plans and objects of this association. The enterprise is one which merits the especial attention of all interested in the purchase or sale of petroleum. It is proposed to erect at least five iron tanks at Titusville, of a capacity of ten thousand barrels each. Such facilities for storage and security against fire and flood are obviously of great advantage to operators, and afford at the same time a market for extensive transactions in this commodity. The President of the company is Mr. L. S. Watkins, a gentleman whose identity with the oil trade has been especially prominent for years. The capital stock of the company is $500,000, divided into five thousand shares of one hundred dollars each. A limited amount of the stock is now offered at thirty-five dollars per share.

SAM RYAN COMING.—This favorite comedian, who made so favorable an impression here last fall and winter, will revisit Titusville in a few weeks, with a dramatic company under his own management. The announcement will be gratifying to play-goers, for Ryan is the most popular man in his profession who has ever visited the oil region.

SANDSTONE FOR FUEL.—A large formation of gray sandstone strongly impregnated with petroleum has been found at Tinsburg, Lafayette Co., Wisconsin. The owners think it might be profitably employed as a substitute for coal, if not, it might pay to extract the oil from it by distillation.

THE Oil Trade Review, of London, England, says "Mineral Lubricating Oil is steadily finding a market, and the prejudices against it are rapidly vanishing. Want of "body" is now the chief complaint, but this is met by separating the lighter or "intermediate" oil, which is in moderate demand.

For the Morning Herald.

Another Leaf Turned.

Another page in life is read;
Another sad good-bye, is said;
Again with memories dear I trace
The new leaf take the old one's place.
Ah! well, but still, why need I sigh?
I've watched so many scenes fit by
Just when I knew and loved them best,
Methinks that now my heart should rest
Content to join in the refrain
That breathes through every life the same:
"I know, I knew it could not last,
'Twas bright, 'twas lovely, but 'tis past."
Then come, my friend! and while that song
Within our hearts is borne along,
Let us recall the page just past
And know, this time, will be the last.
No more our woodland haunts we'll tread,
Or e'er the lilies our way we'll thread;
No more spring blossoms, bright and fair,
Will woo our hearts from w'ry care,
As wand'ring down their sunny slope
They whisper tales of love and hope;
No more the robin's notes will wake
Sweet echoes through the rocks and brake;
Or chirping out in sharp distress
They show a parent's tenderness,
As we, unmoved, pass mute
You hear the nest that holds their young.
No more on banks of mossy green
We'll sit and read, or idly dream,
Or listen to the winds soft chime
Through hemlock boughs or mournful pine.
No more we'll look, with hushed heart throb,
"Through nature up to nature's God"
Those are all past, past the time
We've spent in reading Bards sublime;
In soaring on their wings of air
Up through their realms so wondrous fair,
Until we've almost reached that goal
Where only poets, live in soul.
Or not in mood for flights so high,
Some simpler author we would try;
And seizing on some point of doubt
Would argue, and bring strong facts out
To try and prove that each was true;
When oft, alas! the point in view
As we went on, but dimmer grew.
And sometimes, in still gayer mood,
We've fed our mind on lighter food;
And reading poor Don Quixote's fate
Have moralized on man's estate,
And from it, some conclusions made
Of their conceit and false parade.

* * * * * * *

Yes! all these pleasant hours are past;
We turn the page; we've read the last.
To-morrow's sun, of noon, will find
Our lives divided; it will shine
On thee, in all thy haunts of joys;
On me bound for a distant shore
Mayhap, through years of joy and pain,
Our paths may never cross again;
The streams that part and sever now
May never more together flow.
Till wending through the vale of time
They reach the sea; then seas sublime,
Whose waves of glory touch the shore
Of Heaven, and chant "forever more;"
But there they'll mingle and remain
Through all eternity, the same
Then, with brave heart and each next soul
Let each press forward to the goal,
And whisper with our sad farewell,
The words, "Weep not! all will be well."

Titusville, May, 1866. M.

The "Signers" and Mr. E. H. Chase.

E. H. CHASE, Esq:—In your response to the letter of your fellow-citizens requesting your withdrawal from the canvass for the Assembly, you ask if we intend to charge you "with any criminal act or intent." We disclaim any such intention, and think that there is nothing in the language of that letter that can possibly be so construed. We simply stated therein a fact that must be apparent to every man who is not wilfully blind. Your unfortunate connection with the Petroleum Bank, and consequently with Culver, Penn & Co., renders you an unavailable and unpopular candidate. It may be that you ought in no sense to be held responsible for the disasters in which their failure has involved our community. Notwithstanding this you will find it exceedingly difficult to convince those who are the sufferers by these bankruptcies (and who in all the oil regions is exempt?) that you are entirely innocent.

Now we want a candidate who has no dead weight to carry—a candidate whose friends shall not be compelled to labor hard to disarm the voters of the prejudices which exist against him, whether they are ill founded ones or not. The simple question for both of us to consider is are you such a candidate? Unfortunately you are not. Our candidate must be sufficiently popular to command votes enough to secure an election. Can you command the requisite votes? Evidently you cannot. You allude to the fact that at one time you were the unanimous choice of the Eastern Crawford Convention. We do not dispute it, and had circumstances remained unchanged, we would have contributed to your election; but these subsequent troubles have placed you in a different relation toward the community at large, and surely you cannot imagine that you are still the unanimous choice of those who nominated you. If you do, it will not be a difficult matter for you to undeceive yourself. Once more we appeal to you not to persist in a course which will not only bring sure defeat upon yourself, but may possibly jeopardize the interests of the community with which you have so long been identified. I cannot reply to your statement that our letter "begins with an inaccuracy in regard to your position," because your meaning is not clear. I can only assure you that there was no intention on our part to place you in a false position. Yours, respectfully,

ONE OF THE SIGNERS.

WE are requested to draw attention to an advertisement in this day's paper, of the New York Disinfecting Company, who have erected a large building in New York for the manufacture of Disinfectants. As this is a matter of public interest we do so cheerfully, and beg our readers to pay all the attention possible to cleanliness (for cholera or no cholera, cleanliness is a godly virtue,) and spare no pains in assisting to ward off so fearful a visitation as this disease, by the free use of disinfectants which are recommended by the New York Board of Health. This is a substantial company, we are told, and their article, coming recommended as it is, will be of incalculable benefit to the public.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, May 16.

Gold declined at the Board ⅛c, and issues of 1864 and 1865 ⅛c, 7-30s and 10-40s retained late quotations. Gold is excited under active foreign movements and the Assistant Treasurer is a seller at the best price over 1.30, and this source of supply has checked an advancing tendency which would probably have produced more violent fluctuations than have been experienced for some time past. Of course those who had gone long in gold without taking into account the possible contingency of the Government coming into the market are loud in their condemnation of the action of the Treasury.

Money is a drug upon the market. There is an inquiry for large amounts at 4 per cent. for the purpose of gold speculations and for speculative purchases of the 5-20s being returned from Europe, but it is not found easy to procure any large amounts at that rate. The general rate on call loans is five per cent. Prime paper continues comparatively scarce, the rate on short dates being 5@5½ per cent. and on three and four months bills 5½@6% per cent.

PETROLEUM MARKETS.

TITUSVILLE, May 16.

The petroleum market in New York has fallen off to 28c., but oil at the wells remains firm at previous quotations. There are very few sales to report.

The large stock in the Pittsburgh market is being held for a rise, and the producers are holding nearly all the oil that is being produced at figures which will prevent shipments to eastern markets. It is a difficult matter to judge what will be the result of this state of affairs.

If the production continues to fall off at anything like the rate at which it has been doing lately the price of oil must certainly continue to rise steadily, and it remains doubtful whether there will be a sufficient supply to meet the demand of the fall trade.

There is a question which is claiming the attention of certain operators, as to the probable effect of the Canadian oil which is now produced in considerable quantity, when brought into competition with our foreign export. The Canadian oil contains so large an amount of sulphur that it cannot be used for illuminating purposes without being mixed with our own oil. This is also the case with the shale oil. It is therefore only merchantable where our petroleum can be procured to mix with it, and its price is regulated by the price of our petroleum. Should there be a large falling off in our production neither Canada nor Europe could supply a substitute suitable for the market.

The export demand is increasing in proportion to the number of new channels which are constantly being opened for it in all parts of the world.

So far as the home consumption is concerned the substitution of refined oil instead of candles, gas, &c., for illuminating purposes, is taking place very rapidly. Even in large cities where millions of dollars have been spent in laying pipes and building machinery, and where gas can be procured very cheaply, the petroleum lamps are coming extensively into use.

The supposition that the production will still continue to fall off is therefore enough in itself to cause the producers and Pittsburgh dealers to hold on to all the oil which they have on hand or which may be produced, in expectation of getting better prices.

The large amount of refined oil which has been accumulating during the dull season may be sufficient for present purposes, but when that is cleared off and refiners begin to make their demand on the producers, it is very questionable where the enormous supply, which a few weeks ago was calculated upon, is to come from.

When there is so superabundant a supply of oil as there has been for the past year, and prices are barely sufficient to pay working expenses, the development stops, and capital leaves the territory. The wells then producing, gradually cease to yield until the price rises to a point which will invite capital and development, then we may look for another rush to the oil regions.

The amount of oil to be procured by proper development is apparently inexhaustible, but it requires labor and capital to get it. The average natural life of a good well is about one year, and if there are not other wells put down to supply the place of those in existence we may easily make a calculation as to how long it will take to drain the territory. The question therefore resolves itself into the amount of new development going on, and the probability of the new wells being successful. On this point every man can judge for himself. The producers and eastern operators evidently differ in opinion upon this subject.

The receipts and shipments by wagon, pipes and railroad on Tuesday were as follows:

PITTSBURGH OIL MARKET.

[Special to the Morning Herald.]

PITTSBURGH, May 16

The crude oil market this forenoon was emphatically flat. The ruling prices may be fairly given at 15@15½c barrels returned and 20@20½c barrels included. The holders were more anxious to realize and buyers were rather difficult to find. We heard of but two small sales, viz: 75 barrels at 15½c and 200 barrels at 12c barrels returned.

Telegrams from Oil City this morning quote crude on the creek dull $4 75 per barrel, a very material decline. The market here at noon was in favor of buyers.

Refined bonded oil was dull and the market weak.—There was but little inquiry and no sales to our knowledge. The quotations for Philadelphia delivery were 42c for May, 43@43½c for June, 44@44½ for July and 46@46½c for August, at these figures buyers were few and a downward tendency was manifested.

Free oil is without any special demand. Small sales were made at 54@55c.

The total receipts by the Allegheny river were a trifle over 2,000 barrels; Fisher Bros. received 722 barrels. There are rumors of an arrival of a steamship at New York from Europe bringing intelligence of another decline in petroleum

Martha Washington Hair Restorer.

That which revives, reanimates and blesses—
'Tis not a poison that will soil your tresses,
'Tis not a dye that sometime will impair
The wavy lustre of your glossy hair,
Selected out from nature's grand creation—
A simple vegetable preparation,
Where nature and where chemistry, combine
To make it what it is—almost divine,
A wonderous panacea, which in truth
Restores the fading lustre of your youth
And makes you feel, though sorrows round you stand
And age above you waves his silver wand,
One consolation with your life is wan—
That consolation lies in "MARTHA WASHINGTON".

CRITTENDEN'S PRIZE CONCERT—DISTRIBUTION OF VALUABLE GIFTS—A NOVEL FOURTH OF JULY ENTERTAINMENT.—Mr. E. H. Crittenden, the enterprising and popular proprietor of the Crittenden House, announces in this morning's HERALD, an entertainment for the Fourth of July, in the form of a mammoth Prize Concert. The novelty of the attraction consists in the distribution among the audience of upward of two thousand and ninety valuable gifts, amounting in the aggregate to $40,700—the grand prize being the large two story building, extending from Spring to Diamond street, valued at $16,000. The lot is 24 feet front by 140 feet deep. The building combines both store and dwelling, the former fronting on Spring street and having a spacious door yard, ornamented with trees and shrubbery; the store on Diamond street, adjacent to the Crittenden House, and constituting one of the most advantageous and valuable business localities in the city. The prize list also includes a one sixteenth working interest in well 108, Rooker farm, a valuable horse and buggy, two gold watches, twenty five double cased silver watches, and the entire stock of wines, liquors, cigars, glassware, and furniture of both store and dwelling above described. A complete list of the prizes will be found in another column. There will be four thousand and seventy tickets, and two thousand and ninety prizes, or a prize to every other ticket holder. Every ticket holder will be registered, and every ticket numbered in duplicate. The distribution will be in charge of a committee of disinterested citizens, to be selected by the audience at the time and place designated.

We have never before commended enterprises of this nature, from the fact that they are too often undertaken for purely speculative purposes, and managed by unprincipled parties who impose on public credulity. In this instance the facts are quite the reverse. Mr. Crittenden's references are Messrs. F. W. Abies, J. T. Chase, R. D. Fletcher, J. T. Briggs, O. C. Duffield, and W. W. Kingsland, gentlemen who are prominently known throughout the oil region. We have carefully examined the schedule and are confident there is nothing fictitious or unreal about it. It is a matter of fact sale of unencumbered property at par value, by an extensive plan of distribution among ticket holders, to an unexceptionable entertainment, and does not in any manner conflict with the common or statutory law.

Our citizens generally understand Mr. Crittenden's object in this matter. He has built and furnished at an enormous cost the largest and best hotel in the oil region. In giving it his exclusive personal attention and devoting his entire capital to its success it necessitates the suspension of his former business, and the disposal of all other property. Every person interested in the reputation and prosperity of Titusville should appreciate the necessity of sustaining an enterprise of this character. The price of tickets is fixed at $10 each. More than half the ticket holders will receive gifts, and some of them will have abundant cause for rejoicing.

CITY ORDINANCES.

AN ORDINANCE to provide for the reorganization of the Fire Department.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the Common Council of the city of Titusville, that the Fire Department shall consist of a Chief Engineer, First Assistant Engineer, Second Assistant Engineer, a company for each hand engine, a company for the Hook and Ladder apparatus and a company for each of the Hose Carriages, each of said companies shall have a Foreman, Assistant Foreman, Secretary and Treasurer, to be chosen by the members of said companies.

Sec. 2. The Chief Engineer shall be appointed by the Common Council and hold his office during the pleasure of said Council. He shall have sole command at fires over all members of the Fire Department and all other persons who may be at fires, and shall have power of a policeman to carry this ordinance into effect. It shall be his duty to examine into the condition of all engines and other apparatus belonging to the city and used for the purposes of the Fire Department, and whenever any building, engine or other apparatus used for the purposes of the Fire Department require any alterations, additions or repairs, he shall report the same to the Committee on Fire Department. It shall also be the duty of said Chief Engineer to keep on hand an inventory of all property belonging to said Fire Department, and to furnish the Clerk of the Council a copy of said inventory every three months. Said Chief Engineer shall also receive and transmit to the Common Council all returns of officers, members, and new apparatus made by the respective companies, and all communications relating to the affairs of the Fire Department. He shall also report all accidents by fire which may happen within the city limits, with the causes thereof, as well as can be ascertained, and the number and description of the buildings destroyed or injured, as near as can be ascertained, together with the names of the owners or occupants thereof.

Sec. 3. The First and Second Assistant Engineers shall be elected by the members of the several Engine, Hook and Ladder and Hose companies. They shall take general charge of the apparatus at fires and cause all orders of the Chief Engineer to be executed; they shall also see that the engines and other apparatus, and the several buildings in which the same are deposited and all things in and belonging to those use are kept neat, clean and in order for immediate use. In case of the absence of the Chief Engineer, the First Assistant Engineer shall perform the duties of Chief Engineer, and in case of the absence of the Chief Engineer and First Assistant Engineer the Second Assistant Engineer shall perform the duties of Chief Engineer.

Sec. 4. The Foreman and Assistant Foreman of the several Engine, Hook and Ladder and Hose companies shall be elected by the members of each of said companies. They shall exercise all powers and perform all duties prescribed in section 3 of this ordinance. It shall also be their duty to preserve order and discipline in their respective companies.

Sec. 5. The Secretary of each of said companies shall keep a roll of the members of said company, a copy of which shall be furnished to the Common Council or Chief Engineer, when requested, and he shall also keep a record of the proceedings of said company.

Sec. 6. The Treasurer of each of said companies shall have charge of the funds of said company and shall pay out the same in accordance with the by laws of said company or by a vote of the majority of the members.

Sec. 7. All engines, hose, hose carriages, and hook and ladder apparatus now in possession of the city of Titusville are hereby declared the exclusive property of said city, and shall so remain. And whatever expenditures shall be voluntarily made by the Fire Department, or by any company belonging to the same, for the use and benefit of the city, or for the ornamentation of any engine or other fire apparatus, in the possession of the city, shall be deemed the property of the city of Titusville, and shall not under any circumstances be permanently displaced or removed without the special consent of the Common Council in the form of a resolution to that effect.

Sec. 8. It shall be lawful for the Mayor or any Committeeman, Chief Engineer, First and Second Assistant Engineers, the Foreman or Assistant Foreman of any engine, or other fire company, the Fire Marshal or any Fire Warden or the Chief of Police to require the aid of any citizen or inhabitant of the city of Titusville in drawing any engine or other apparatus to or from any fire, or in working, managing or using the same for the removal or guarding of property, and every person who may refuse to obey such lawful order shall be liable to instant arrest and confinement and to a fine not exceeding twenty dollars, to be collected before the Mayor or any Justice of the Peace.

DRE COURTARET'S DISINFECTING FLUIDS Secured by Letters Patent in the United States and France. Prepared solely by the New York Disinfecting Company, at their Laboratory, Nos. 298, 299, and 302 Henry street, N. Y. Office, 42 Cedar street.

This Company organized on a permanent basis, with Dr. Courtaret, the celebrated French Chemist, in charge of its Laboratory, is prepared to furnish its DISINFECTING FLUIDS for sick rooms, sinks, drains, urinals, water closets, privies, cesspools, sewers, gutters, ships, railroads, hospitals, prisons and public institutions of all kinds, slaughter houses, offal and fat boiling establishments, all kinds of manufactories (tanneries) increasing the value of the latter to every farmer, and wherever poisonous and offensive gases exist. These agents are deodorizers, antiseptics, antiputrescents, and disinfectants in the scientific meaning of the words. They remove noxious gases and odors by chemical principles—leaving in their places he illified air—they are destroyers, and not merely absorbents of poisonous gases—not injurious to the walls in which they are used. The attention of medical and sanitary men is directed to these disinfectants. Certificates are testimonials in favor of this great discovery which, with hundreds of others can be seen at the Company's office.

ALL THE OIL—NO ROYALTY.

GREAT INDUCEMENTS TO PARTIES WHO WANT TO BORE FOR OIL!

The undersigned has inaugurated a new system in the oil regions of Pennsylvania. He offers the following inducements so that almost any person who has industry and perseverance, can go on the land and bore for a flowing oil well.

1st. No Royalty! The oil to belong exclusively to the party putting down the well.

2d. All the wood wanted for machine drilling, and testing, free of expense.

3d. Timber for Derricks and Engine Houses also without charge.

4th. When the well is down and fully tested the party shall have the privilege of purchasing from one half to five acres in fee simple, upon which the well is located at a nominal figure. The price to be agreed upon when the contract is made for going on the land.

The undersigned has expended thousands of dollars during the last six months in exploring the Oil Fields of Venango and during that time has selected over ten thousand acres of beautiful Oil Territory. It has been selected with great care, and most of it is situated in the midst of territory already developed, and where oil is now oil mined in large quantities.
